New Insulation Industry Steadily Increasing

Mosulate, an Insulate Manufactured by J. A. Macdonald of Grande Prairie, finds ready demand—Ships Out Whole Carload.

J. A. Macdonald of Grande Prairie recently shipped out a carload of Mosulate, an insulate, to the outside. In his industry Mr. Macdonald has utilized a native moss, known as sphagnum, found in the muskegs southeast of Grande Prairie.

Mr. Macdonald began making this insulate four years ago. The way. The business has steadily grown and last summer he employed ten men for the greater part of the winter. Mr. Macdonald, in discussing the industry with The Tribune, explained some of the uses to which Mosulate can be put. Practical use has demonstrated that it prevents heat from escaping through the ceiling and roof and cuts the winter fuel bill from 20 to 35 per cent in the winter.

The manufacturer further stated that this product can be used to advantage in packing and storing fruit.

Mosulate, which is non-combustible, has been used in the construction of many Grande Prairie homes and also in the majority of the government buildings.

The type of moss from which Mosulate is made is found only in a very few countries.

Mr. Macdonald naturally looks for a greater development as time goes on of this new Grande Prairie industry.

Town Fathers Had Lengthy Session Monday Night

Council To Assist Public And High School Pupils In Furnishing An Open Air Skating Rink—Present Building Inspection System Criticized.

It was well after 11 o'clock when the Town Fathers rose from their deliberations on Monday night. The following were present: Mayor Tooley, Councillors Wilschut, Bentley, Oliver, Brown and Simpson.

Growing out of the provincial fire inspector's report on the town, there was a lengthy discussion on the inspection of buildings.

Councillor Oliver wanted to know if the council thought the town really had a building inspection system.

Councillor Bentley, who was in the present system was unsatisfactory.

The inspector's report, which contained recommendations for the lessening the fire hazards, was received and the recommendations will be acted upon.

A report will be presented by Constable Harper at the next meeting of the council on his inspection.

The Mayor reported that the tax rate on the school property was the means of getting a thousand dollars, which money was paid in to the school board.

Mr. Tooley and Charlie Turner interviewed council on behalf of the high and public schools with regard to assisting the students in furnishing a skating and hockey outdoor rink to be located between the two schools.

The case for the schools was well presented and the council agreed to take the grounds and furnish the water. If available, a small building will be moved over to the site and boys explained that the school board had agreed to furnish the necessary equipment.

Last year provision was made for the pupils to skate at the rink three times a week.

The rink will be 70x170 feet. Skating and hockey will be under the supervision of the teachers.

Councillors Wilschut, Bentley, and Oliver were asked to cooperate with the school board in the matter.

Councillor Oliver reported on the personnel of the fire brigade. He said that he had taken the matter up with the fire department and they were quite agreeable to strike off any non-resident members and reorganize the force.

A meeting, Mr. Oliver said, will be held in two weeks time and a report presented to the council.

The municipal inspector's report, which was read by the secretary, highly commended the town office and its efficiency. The report also recommended council on the care taken in making the monthly estimate.

On motion of the Mayor the report was received and the secretary instructed to write to the Department of Municipal Affairs, stating that the report had been fully discussed.

Much Building To Be Done Beaver Lodge District

(By D. E. Harris) BEAVER LODGE, Nov. 3.—With threshing finished and more fall plowing done than in the past seven years, farmers were quite prepared for winter, which made its first appearance here October 30. But with no frost in the ground, some are hoping the snow may go and we may yet have more of the previous beautiful autumn weather.

There have been some wonderful yields of grain in the Beaver Lodge district, as 40 to 50 bushels of wheat and over 125 of oats per acre were reaped from the fields.

From No. 1 to 3. And with the present good prices prosperity is again smiling and many buildings going up on all sides.

Frontier Lumber Company has supplied material for over fifty granaries. J. O. Johnson has completed one of the fine barns in the district.

Harry Lay is preparing to build a large new residence.

Arnold Johnson has the basement and foundation ready for an up-to-date new dwelling. John Butler and Harry Jacobson are building a new house. Wm. Hodges is also having a fine new barn erected by the same builder.

Considerable increase of telephone subscribers on rural lines is being effected by the forming of several mutual telephone companies to take care of the district.

A number of meetings held in the district in the past few weeks.

Mr. J. H. Tremblay, president of the Government Telephone in the Peace River, was present at these meetings.

Each of the mutual telephone companies was organized Monday, October 27, and J. S. McKean, of the district, was present to take over Rural 1 and 2 east of Seabrook to new subscribers.

Twenty-two subscribers, a three times increase over the number before organized.

Taking over Wembley Rural 1 and its two subscribers, the Hermit Lake mutual telephone company was formed Tuesday, October 27, with J. O. Stewart, president, and R. R. O. Stewart, secretary and treasurer.

The same afternoon R. C. Stewart was elected president and F. M. Stanger-Davies secretary of the new Rural 3, which will take over Rural 12 with five subscribers.

On October 1 and 7, north and east of Clairmont will have 20 subscribers. It is decided to increase from a former number of seven.

They are now known as Wellington Mutual telephone company, formed Wednesday, October 28, with J. H. Tremblay, president and W. R. Godfrey secretary.

Two Lakes Mutual Telephone Company, formed Thursday, October 29, will take over Rural 8 and 9 west of Clairmont. R. T. Hixley president.

It is expected that a Buffalo Lakes company will be formed shortly to take over rural lines west of Seabrook.

Mr. Hixley believes that ownership and operation of telephone systems by farmers of the district themselves tend to increase their use by district residents and in towns and villages. He estimated that the number of lines in the district would be increased to 100 and rural lines would easily increase one hundred per cent.

The Kirtland five-piece orchestra will provide the music for the evening.

We would advise you not to miss this dance, as the boys are singing the latest songs and the girls are the biggest and best dance ever held in Sexsmith. "Well to seeing you."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

The Shape of a Picture—
Horizontal or Vertical?

When the principal lines of a subject are horizontal, don't forget to hold the camera horizontally. Composition may be further improved by enlarging and trimming.

FROM the standpoint of artistic composition the shape of a picture makes a lot of difference. This statement may seem axiomatic but how often do we snapshotters give thought to it in using our cameras? We all know that most cameras are so constructed as to give us a choice between horizontal and vertical pictures, depending upon the position in which we hold the camera, but in the business of taking pictures there seems to be a sort of psychology of laziness that makes us choose the way most convenient to our hands. With some cameras the vertical position seems easier, with others the horizontal, and to change to the other position seems to require an effort. Too many of us don't make the effort, when we should.

So, we go right on taking pictures the easier way without bothering about the shape of them. When a little thought and little more than a twist of the wrist would make all the difference between good and bad composition. Remember that the lines enclosing a picture are almost as much a part of its composition as the lines inside.

Snapshot albums show all too many pictures of vertical subjects, including persons in full length poses, with a vast waste of margin, right and left, because they were taken with the camera in horizontal position. This is bad, because, for one thing, the excess of margin diminishes the importance of the subject and for another, distracting objects are usually present on one side or the other. That snapshot of Mother picking flowers in the garden is an excellent likeness, but why the corner of the garage on the left margin and clothes reel on the right? These ugly objects would have been eliminated if the up-and-down view had been used.

In the case of scenic pictures, a spreading landscape and such subjects as a flock of sheep or a herd of cattle almost always call for the horizontal position, but no less a waterfall or a skyscraper demand the vertical. It is simply making sure that the lines which give length to your subject parallel the long edges of the film, thus avoiding an overbalance of margin above and below or to the right and left, as the case may be.

So much for planning the shape of a picture before you take it, but composition can be improved, indeed often much improved, by shaping the picture after you take it. There are two ways of doing it. You may reduce the margins and, in some cases, also cut out distracting objects by trimming the print; or, still more effectively, you may mask the negative so as to leave a selected portion and from this portion, have an enlargement made.

Thus, a vertical subject in a vertical panel that has cut out detail on the sides becomes much more impressive; its height and importance have been enhanced. Similarly, with a horizontal subject a horizontal panel will emphasize its "response" lines and accentuate its sweep.

Most good pictorial work, such as finds a place in salons because of its artistic excellence, is usually the combined result of choosing the right camera position, masking the negative and trimming the print.
